About Us

We understand how precious your eyesight is and that choosing where to have surgery is a life-changing decision.

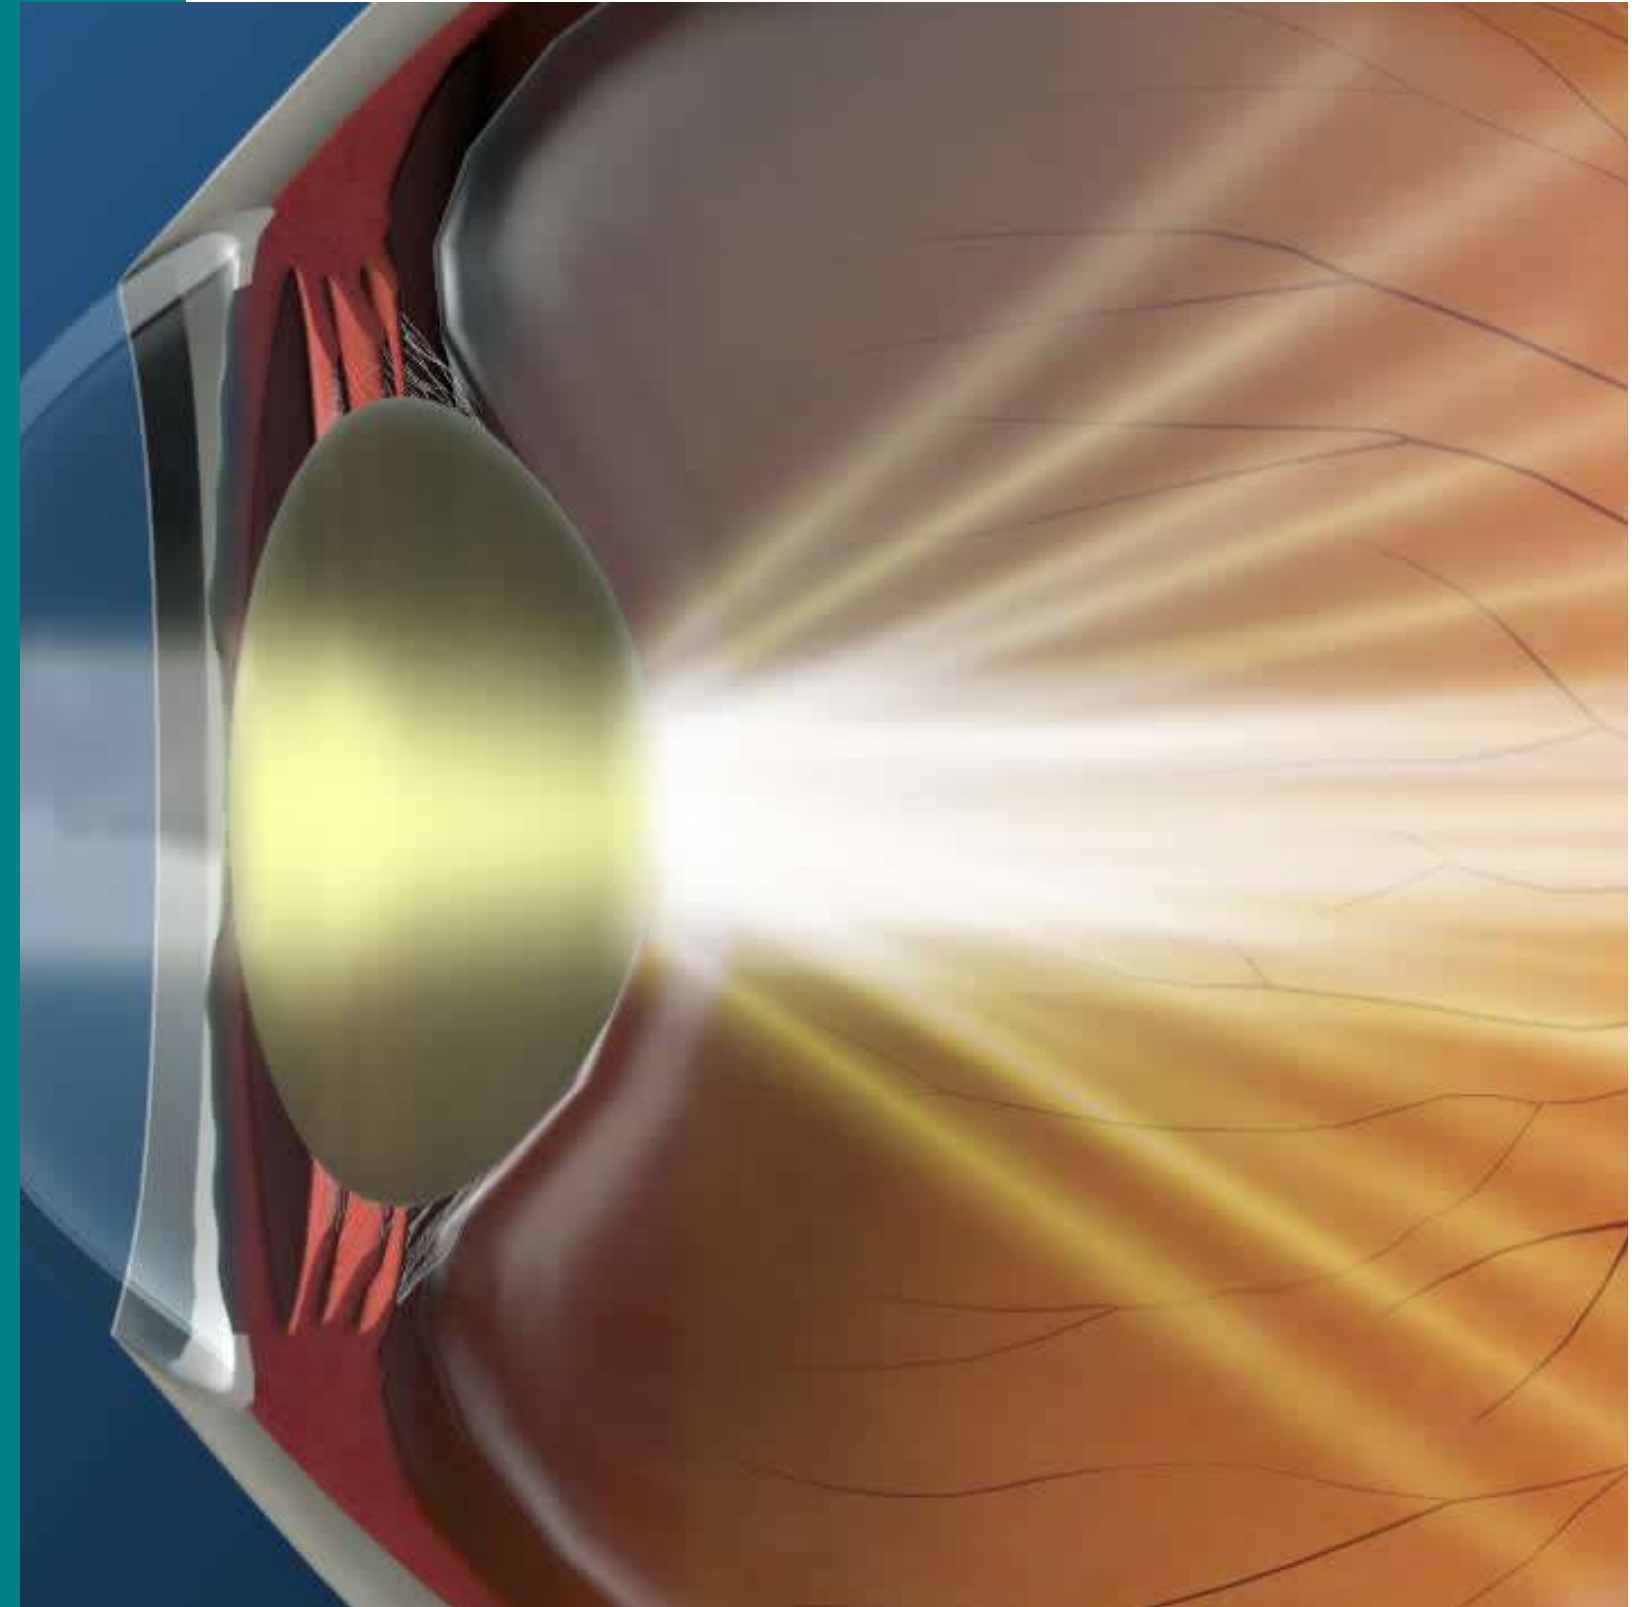

What Happens In Cataracts

Cataracts are the most frequent cause of blindness in the world. With availability of new advanced phaco systems, cataract treatment is a very comfortable and painless daycare process. It doesn't require use of injection, suturing and bandage, enabling individual to start his/her routine activity from the very next day.

Fast Recovery & Accurate Laser Vision Correction

Laser eye surgical treatment is an increasingly more famous desire amongst human beings with refractive sight issues such as close to or farsightedness, or astigmatism. It does this through reshaping the cornea so that the mild enters the eyes at the proper attitude for extended vision. However, everyone's eyes are special.

What Happens In Retinal Detachment

The detached retina is a serious and sight-threatening experience, occurring when the retina becomes separated from its primary supportive tissue. The retina cannot work when these layers are detached. And unless soon the retina is reattached, permanent vision loss may result.
