INTERNATIONAL CONFERENCE on Real Estate Urbanisation (iCRESU2025)

Harmonius Real Estate Evolution:
Navigating Growth, Liveability,
and Investment Viability

ABOUT iCRESU2025

The International Conference on Real Estate Urbanisation, with the theme "Harmonius Real Estate Evolution: Navigating Growth, Liveability, and Investment Viability," aims to address the multifaceted challenges and opportunities arising from urbanisation in real estate context. The conference will focus on various sub-themes, including housing diversity, mixed-use development, urban asset and facilities management, real estate investment opportunities, gentrification, public-private partnerships, smart and inclusive design, community-centric spaces, technological integration, resilience and adaptability, real estate innovation, and cultural preservation. The objectives of the conference are to provide a platform for discussing innovative urban planning and design, promoting social equity in urban development, and exploring real estate investment opportunities in rapidly growing markets. This conference is relevant for real estate key players namely, urban planners, developers, investors, policymakers, and researchers interested in addressing the challenges and opportunities associated with urbanisation and real estate development.
